

Christmas

A son has been born for us (Is 9:6). Parents know very well that when their first son or daughter was born everything changed. They found a love in their hearts that they didn't even know was there, and the unconquerable selfishness that we all have was put to the side to let this little one take the center of the stage. God knew well that to win our hearts he needed to be just like us in everything but sin. Can we still have excuses not to get a bit closer to him? What can we fear?
